Sword Hid Money.

In the meantime Sword sat quiet but took ninety dollars in bills from his pocket and hid the money under his seat. The bandits came up and asked him if he had any money. He said "Sure." reached in his trousers pocket and fished out forty cents, saying, "Take that and bust yourself." He then stood up and told the Mexican near him that a woman was badly frightened in the other coach and he must attend her.

"The Civil war made it almost impossible for the people of Kansas to secure cotton cloth or cotton for any use. Senator James H. Lane undertook to remedy this condition so far as it was in his power. He procured a large quantity of cotton seed, which he had distributed to the people of Kansas. This cotton seed was planted, with the result that a fine crop of cotton was raised in many parts of the state. The first crop was produced in 1862. When it was seen that Kansas could raise cotton, Mr. Plazzek bought a cotton gin of some manufacturer in Massachusetts, which he installed in his mill at Valley Falls. Chicago, Oct. 19.—Immense receipts at the chief spring crop terminal had a depressing effect today on the wheat market here. Changes in political conditions abroad appeared for the time being to have little if any effect on prices, attention was centered almost wholly on the magnitude of supplies in the northwest and especially on the prospect that arrivals would continue heavy for an indefinite time. After opening %61/2 to 160 and May at $1.061/2 to $1.06 and May at $1.061/2 to $1.06 and a little, but then again sagged.

Later, a sharp rally took place as a result of free buying on the part of commission houses and because of the absence of any great accumulation of stocks northwest. The close was nervous at a shade to 1/2 net decline, with December at $1.061/2.

@1.063/2, and May at $1.073/2.

Fine weather eased the corn market. What demand there was came principally from shorts. The opening which ranged from 1/4 to 1/2 lower was followed by a substantial further setback.

Something of a recovery took place when wheat turned strong. The close was unsettled at 1/4c to 5/5c net decline.

Oats reflected the bearish course of other grain. Declines, however, were much less pronounced than in the case of wheat and corn.

Weakness in the hog market carried down provisions. Support was lacking.

Kaneas City Stock Yards, Oct. 19.—Cattle prices held steady, for two days after Monday last week, but the last days of the week witnessed considerable weakness on beef cattle. Stockers and feeders sold fully steady during the week, except the lower grades which lost 15 to 25 cents. There was some decline on feeders after Wednesday, because of weaker bids from killers on half fat cattle. Receipts today are 31,000 cattle, market steady to strong. Packers had nothing to kill this morning, and bought some hurry up orders early 10c higher. Another thing strongly favoring sellers today is that while last Monday the five leading markets had 80,000 cattle, today the total at these markets dropped to 65,000, 27 per cent less than a week ago. Demand for stockers and feeders was strong, and sales were higher than last week. No really good cattle were here today, some middle class short fed steers at $8.75 to $9, and best Kansas grassers $8.50, strong prices. Later the market was slow, and sales at $7.25 to $7.75 on grass steers were barely steady. Twenty cars quarantine cattle arrived, containing fifteen loads of fair steers weighing 900 to 1,000 lbs. at $6.00 to $6.50. Some choice Panhandle yearlings were here today, at $7.75 to $8.25, and high grade Colorado twos sold at $7.70, middle grades of stockers $6 to $6.75, common ones around $5.50. In the hog yards order buyers had liberal orders, and paid strong prices $8.60 for tops. Packers stayed out of the early market, but paid the top price for the best hogs they bought later, bulk of all sales $8.15 to $8.55. The market advanced 10 to 25 cents last week, packers competing for most of the crop a part of the time. Conditions are healthy and the prevailing sentiment at the moment is bullish, packers paying up to the top price today. MediumMedium weight butchers are in strongest demand. Although heavy mixed brought $8.50. Light hogs must be fat to bring top price, s
